Believe in the goodness in people.

Community Growth...

The election is upon us. Voters hitting the polls and officials counting up the votes. Maybe you will have voted for who won....maybe you didn't. But, no matter who the elected officials will be, it is us who makes our communities great. If you want to make your community a better place, be a better person. Help your elderly neighbour with their yard work and expect nothing in return - for someday, someone will do it for you, too. Grow a garden. Save for something special. Take good care of your own health; physically, mentally and spiritually. Skip the fast food and learn to cook; read a great piece of literature. Pick up litter that isn't yours because you can. Smile at people as you pass them on the street and say hello - it is your community. Write letters. Snuggle your children, spouse and pets. Volunteer. Be nice to people and join a local group (or start one!). Let's count on all of us.

When not practicing medicine, Dr. Okpaleke enjoys spending time with his family and playing outdoor sports such as soccer, basketball and, most recently, hockey. To make an appointment, please contact the Lakeshore General Hospital's primary care clinic (1 Steenson Drive, Ashern) at 204-768-3821.

Dr. Randhawa completed her medical training both in India and in Canada. The majority of her medical practice has been in rural health centres where she provided acute and emergency care and management of chronic disease. She says her "driving force" to become a physician came with watching her parents' passion for education and service to community while growing up in Punjab, India. In her free time, Dr. Randhawa enjoys spending time with her husband, daughter and son, doing yoga, and listening to music.

To make an appointment, please contact the Eriksdale Medical Clinic (located in the Wellness Centre at 35 Railway Avenue) at 204-739-2672.

There are other new doctors recently starting practice across the region. To learn more visit: www.ierha.ca / News / Six new physicians joining Interlake-Eastern RHA clinics this October.
