Vol. 26 No. 25 Congratulations Graduates of 2018! June 20, 2018

Up, up and away. JUDE MCCUDDEN, GIRL FROM OZ

Airports are interesting but strange places. They're like a small city you pass through briefly. For some, who commute regularly through them due to business, they become a home away from home. And for this reason, the design of airports has become integral to their success. The flow of human traffic, clear information signage, quick access to terminals for in-transit passengers, quiet nooks to recharge batteries- (that's technology devices and your own body!) are important considerations. One thing I notice is light. Airports that have natural light with large windows and sky light rooves, seem to create a more relaxed atmosphere. Some of my in-transit trips have been multiple stop overs. Try Winnipeg to Chicago, Chicago to L.A., L.A. to Sydney, Sydney to Melbourne. And if all those planes are on time and connections all work, its like winning the lottery. In 2012, I took two flights to Washington to spend a USA Thanksgiving with a nephew. It was a cold, snowy November and thousands of citizens were flying home for Thanks giving. It was an amazing sight. Yesterday, I came out of customs at Melbourne airport after 18 hours of in transit flights to a sea of anxious rushing passengers. It was 8 am, cold and pouring with rain, our cell phones didn't register in the southern hemisphere and I couldn't find relatives who were meeting us. I left a tired disorientated husband with luggage while I went in search of a public telephone, tried to change a Toony for Aussie coins and finally made contact. When I returned to him, with the noise of planes, taxis, buses and overhead speakers jarring us, he showed me a large wet maple leaf that had blown onto his suitcase. I took it as a welcome sign.

Random graduation humour...

- What did the M&M want to graduate college?
... Because he wanted to be a Smarty.
- What do you get when you complete science class?
... A graduated cylinder.
- A young man hired by a supermarket reported for his first day of work. The manager greeted him with a warm handshake and a smile, gave him a broom and said, "Your first job will be to sweep out the store." "But I'm a college graduate," the young man replied indignantly. "Oh, I'm sorry. I didn't know that," said the manager. "Here, give me the broom – I'll show you how."
- Why did the students study in the airplane?
.... Because they wanted higher grades.
- What did the swordfish say to the marlin on graduation day?
... Looking sharp!
- Knock, knock... Who's there?... Gladys... Gladys, who?
... Gladys graduation day!

La Luz y La Verdad
 "Whosoever will come after me, let him deny himself, and take up his cross, and follow me. For whosoever will save his life shall lose it; but whosoever shall lose his life for my sake and the gospel's, the same shall save it. For what shall it profit a man, if he shall gain the whole world, and lose his own soul? Or what shall a man give in exchange for his soul? Whosoever therefore shall be ashamed of me and of my words in this adulterous and sinful generation; of him also shall the Son of man be ashamed, when he cometh in the glory of his Father with the holy angels." WORDS OF JESUS
 - Mark 8: 34b-38 KJV (submitted by Gerald Bankert)

A few 'Words of Wisdom'.....

- Don't knock it till you try it.
- Never cancel dinner plans by text message.
- If a street performer makes you stop walking, you owe him a buck.
- Always use 'we' when referring to your home team.
- When entrusted with a secret, keep it.
- Just because you can, doesn't mean you should.
- Don't dumb yourself down.
- If you're staying more than one night, unpack.
- Never park in front of a bar.
- Expect the seat in front of you to recline. Prepare accordingly.
- Hold your heroes to a high standard.
- A suntan is earned, not bought.
- Never lie to your doctor.
- Don't mention sunburns. Believe me, they know.
- The best way to show thanks is to wear it. Even if it's only once.
- Take a vacation of your cell phone, internet and TV once a year.
- Don't fill up on bread, no matter how good.
- A handshake beats an autograph.
- Don't linger in the doorway. In or out.
- If you want to know what makes you unique, sit for a caricature.
- Never get your hair cut the day of a special event.
- Be mindful of what comes between you and the earth. Always buy good shoes, tires and sheets.
- Never eat your lunch at your desk if you can avoid it.
- When you're with new friends, don't just talk about old friends.
- Eat lunch with the new kids.
- When travelling, keep your wits about you. No matter where you are.
- It's never too late for an apology.
- If you have the right of way, TAKE IT.
- You don't get to choose your own nickname.
- When you marry someone, remember you marry their entire family.
- Never push someone off a dock.
- Under no circumstances should you ask a woman if she is pregnant.
- It's not enough to be proud of your ancestry, live up to it.
- Don't make a scene.
- When giving a thank you speech, short and sweet is best.
- Know when to ignore the camera.
- Never gloat.
- Invest in great luggage.
- Make time for your mother on your birthday. It's a special day for her too.
- Give credit. Take blame.
- Suck it up every now and then.
- If you've made your point, stop talking.
- Admit it when you're wrong.
- If you offer help, don't quit until the job is done.
- Look people in the eye when you thank them.
- Thank the bus driver.
- Never answer the phone at the dinner table.
- Forgive yourself for your mistakes.
- Know at least one good joke.

Congratulations Graduates!

"Ditch the dream and be a doer, not a dreamer, whether or not you know what your 'passion' might be. The truth is, it doesn't matter. You don't have to know. You just have to keep moving forward. You just have to keep doing something, seizing the next opportunity, staying open to trying something new."
 - Shonda Rhimes

"Graduation is the same thing as taking that first baby step as a child. It is only the beginning, not the end. Thus, take the advent of graduation as that first step where life's difficulties or failures only spark new attempts with the full understanding that nobody can discourage your progress except you."
 - Byron R. Pulsifer
